If you value American Orthoptic Journal, please tell your librarian!

In this time of tightening budgets, some libraries are not renewing journal subscriptions, unless they hear from YOU. If you find the articles you read in American Orthoptic Journal valuable, please take a moment to tell your library by filling out the library recommendation form, below or online at:

Ed. James Reynolds, M.D., University at Buffalo, SUNY | ISSN: 0065-955X, e-ISSN: 1553-4448, 1/year
To subscribe visit http://uwpress.wisc.edu/journals/ or contact your subscription agency.

I recommend that the library subscribe to American Orthoptic Journal because:

☐ This journal is an essential resource for myself and my colleagues
☐ I refer my students to this journal
☐ I publish/intend to publish articles within this journal

Affordable Home-based Vergence Exercises

The program is completely automated providing a variety of smooth and jump vergence exercises using random dot stereograms.

NEW RESEARCH ARTICLE - PLEASE READ

“Treatment of symptomatic convergence insufficiency with home-based computerized vergence system therapy for children…”

Original Research Article:
Journal of American Association for Pediatric Ophthalmology and Strabismus, Volume 19, Issue 5, October 2015, Pages 417-421
- Pamela A. Huston, Darren L. Hoover

The program automatically advances and modifies the exercises as patients improve.
Reinforces correct responses with auditory feedback.
Automatically records & graphs each session for your review, thus assuring compliance.
